

holistic connections following center (hcf): Manage Your IBM Connections Following Settings.

You want to get the most use out of IBM Connections, and guarantee the best use and knowledge transfer for your teams and projects.

Be successful with the tools from holistic-net!

hcf Use and Advantages:

- Overview of all items you follow in IBM Connections including files, stories, wikis and more
- Quick clarity by showing only those items which you follow
- Unfollow any item you no longer need with a push of a button
- Different sorting options enable you to efficiently find content and also allow you to remove old items from your following list
- Search functionality is built directly into the following center!
- Uses the user's credentials and therefore does not circumvent the security of IBM Connections
- Simply install hcf onto your IBM Connections Server
- Don't only give your users a way to share knowledge, enable them to work efficiently, effectively, and economically!

hcf Overview:

- Quickly find desired content which is reduced to the information followed by the user
- hcf can serve as an excellent navigational aide for IBM Connections as content can be opened directly in IBM Connections
- All items followed by the user can be found in one place
- Quickly remove content that the user no longer wishes to follow
